

The Cordoba Dialogues

Dr. Monia Mazigh

"Identity, Citizenship and Beyond: Reflections"

Friday November 13
McMaster University
HSC 1A5 at 3:30 pm

About Cordoba House...

Dr. Mazigh was catapulted onto the public stage in 2002 when her husband Maher Arar, was deported to Syria where he was tortured and held without charge for over a year. She is the author of "Hope and Despair," which chronicles her story, and she is a former NDP candidate for parliament

Cordoba House invokes the Cordoba legacy of discourse, diversity, and erudition. Our purpose is to foster dialogue, facilitate understanding, and promote research on Islam and Muslims in Canada and the role of faith in public life.

Co-sponsored by: McMaster Department of Religious Studies, the Institute on Globalization and the Human Condition, Mills Memorial Library, McMaster Muslims for Peace and Justice, and the McMaster Muslim Students Association

Contact: Shameela Zaman

905-523-1555

house.cordoba@gmail.com

www.cordobahouse.com

A Project of the Muslim Association of Canada